

Accessing good practice advice through your ClfA membership

One of the benefits you get from ClfA membership is being able to access a wide range of training and other resources about good practice in archaeology to develop your skills and knowledge.

As well as this magazine, there are plenty of other resources that are free to members, such as ClfA professional practice papers and e-learning modules.

Professional practice papers

Professional practice papers offer in-depth guidance on specific areas to support ClfA's Code of conduct and Standards and guidance. Our practice papers include

- Delivering public benefit – ClfA, HS2 and Sadie Watson, 2021
- Principles of cultural heritage impact assessment – ClfA, IEMA and IHBC, 2021
- An introduction to professional ethics – Gerry Wait, 2017
- Updated guidelines to the standards for recording human remains – Piers D Mitchell and Megan Brickley, 2017
- An introduction to providing career entry training in your organisation – ClfA, 2014 (revised 2021)
- An introduction to drawing archaeological pottery, revised edition – Lesley Collett, 2017
- Access pdf versions through the members-only part of our website using your member login details at www.archaeologists.net/members/downloadpapers and for printed copies please contact admin@archaeologists.net.

E-learning modules

E-learning is electronic learning – taking short online courses to improve your skills in your own time and at a pace that suits you. Like many of our fellow professional institutes, ClfA has its own e-learning portal to support members' CPD. You can access it through the members-only part of our website using your member login details. This portal provides links to short modules covering a range of historic environment practice, including

- Everyday ethics: an introduction to professional ethics and developing your ethical knowledge
- Making sense of the planning system: an introduction for ClfA members
- Planning your career: understanding Personal Development Plans and Continuing Professional Development
- Professionalism in historic environment practice, an introduction
- Understanding sexual harassment in archaeology: a guide for archaeologists (produced by BAJR Respect with support from ClfA and Prospect, Archaeologists Branch)
- Archaeological archives: creating FAIR, sustainable and ethical archives

Access all e-learning modules free of charge at www.archaeologists.net/elearning