

Authors

Doris Ahnen, M.A., b. 1964. Studied political science, public law and education; 1996–2001 Undersecretary of State at the Ministry of Education, Science and Further Education; 2001 Minister of State; since 2006 member of parliament of the State of Rhineland-Palatinate; since 2001 member of the Bundestag. Since 2014 Minister of Finance.

Sigrid Brandt, Prof. Dr., b. 1968. Studied musicology and art history at the Humboldt University in Berlin. 2005–2008 assistant professor at the Technical University of Dresden, Chair of Preservation of Historic Monuments and Design. 2013 post-doctoral lecture qualification at the University of Salzburg.

Martin Bredenbeck, Dr., b. 1977. Art historian. 2011–2016 scientific officer at the Bund Heimat und Umwelt in Deutschland, since June 2016 managing director of the Rheinischer Verein für Denkmalpflege und Landschaftsschutz. Founding member of the Initiative Beethovenhalle and the Werkstatt Baukultur Bonn.

Dinu Bumbaru, architect, has worked since 1982 at Héritage Montréal, an NGO bridging the metropolitan/national/global and academic/civic divides. He was an ICOMOS International Board member and Secretary General, and is active in its Canadian, Risk Preparedness, Heritage of the Modern Era and Theory committees.

Berthold Burkhardt, Prof. Dipl.-Ing., b. 1941. Architect; collaboration with Frei Otto in Stuttgart, architectural office, professor for structural design at University of Braunschweig. Research fields and publications: nature and technology, preservation of monuments, history of lightweight structures. Speaker of the ICOMOS Monitoring Group in Germany.

Alex Dill, Dipl.-Ing., b. 1954, studied architecture at the TU Darmstadt, afterwards project architect; later founded his own architect's office. Since 1992 Akademischer Rat at the Institute of Building Design, Karlsruhe University. In 2007 he set up the new course "Architecture and Furniture" at the Institute of Design, Art and Theory. Visiting professor at the universities of Bologna, Moscow and St Petersburg.

Bernhard Furrer, Prof. Dr., b. 1943. Self-employed architect and expert, deputy chairman of the monument council in Berlin, member of the monitoring group of ICOMOS Germany, expert of ICOMOS on World Heritage matters. 2000–2012 professor at the Accademia di Architettura der Università della Svizzera Italiana in Mendrisio. 1997–2008 president of the Swiss Federal Commission for Monument Conservation. 1979–2006 conservator of the city of Berne. Manager of the World Heritage site Old City of Berne. www.bernhardfurrer.ch

Olaf Gisbertz, Dr. M. A., b. 1965. Assistant Professor, Institute of Building History at TU Braunschweig, curator of exhibitions, conferences and roundtables on postwar architecture 1945+; since 2014 head of the Zentrum Bauforschung+ Kommunikation+Denkmalpflege, iTUBS; publications on evaluating conservation strategies for modern heritage.

Joachim Glatz, Dr., b. 1950. Studied history of art, classical archaeology, and prehistoric and protohistoric archaeology in Munich and Mainz. 1978–2015 he worked for the monument authority in Rhineland-Palatinate, today part of the Generaldirektion Kulturelles Erbe Rheinland-Pfalz (GDKE); 2007–2015 head of the monument authority.

Marianne Grosse, M.A., b. 1962. Studied political science, English literature and modern history; 1992–1998 assistant of MP Prof. Dr. E. Pick; 1998 head of division 'speeches and public relations' at the Ministry of Labour, Social Affairs and Health; 2001–2010 member of the parliament of Rhineland-Palatinate; since 2010 deputy mayor of the city of Mainz, departmental head of building, heritage conservation and culture.

Dankwart Guratzsch, Dr., b. 1939. Studied history and German literature in Marburg, Munich and Hamburg; 1971 doctoral degree with a thesis on Alfred Hugenberg. Since 1971 has worked as journalist for the newspaper DIE WELT; 1972 editorial journalist; 1978 head of department; since 1980 correspondent for architecture and urban planning.

Jörg Haspel, Prof. Dr., Dipl.-Ing., b. 1953. Head of the Berlin monument authority since 1992; president of ICOMOS Germany. Studied architecture, urban planning, history of art and empirical cultural studies. Chair of the board of the Deutsche Stiftung Denkmalschutz; member of the advisory board of the Federal Foundation Baukultur and also of the advisory board of the Network White City of Tel Aviv.

Roswitha Kaiser, Dr.-Ing., b. 1957. Studied architecture at RWTH Aachen; 1983 diploma under Gottfried Böhm; doctoral degree 1988; 1993–95 moderator of "experimental housing and urban planning" in Saxony-Anhalt; from 1996 at Westphalian conservation authority; 2009–12 speaker of the working group 'structural engineering' at the VdL; from 2011 head of department 'practical monument conservation' at the conservation authority in Hessen; since 2015 head of the monument authority in Rhineland-Palatinate.

Philip Kurz, Prof. Dipl.-Ing., b. 1969. Architect. Director and head of the historic monument programme of the Wüstenrot Foundation. Lecturer at the Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT). Member of the advisory board of the Federal Foundation of Baukultur and of several competition panels. Studied at the Universities of Braunschweig and Stuttgart and at the European Business School. Before his employment at the Wüstenrot Foundation, Kurz worked for international business consultancies, since July 2016 honorary professor at KIT.

Andreas Kellner, Dipl.-Ing., b. 1954. Studied in Darmstadt, Aachen and Edinburgh (UK); 1987–2013 head of various planning units at the Ministry of Urban Development, Hamburg; coordinator-in-chief for the International Building Exhibition (IBA) Hamburg 2013. Since 2013 director of the Department for Heritage Preservation at the Ministry of Culture, Hamburg.

Ulrike Knall-Brskovsky, Dr., b. 1954. Art historian. Assistant and teacher at the art historical institute of the University of Vienna; from 1985 conservationist at the Austrian federal monuments office, dept. for Lower Austria; from 1992 at the dept. on inventories and heritage research; also active at the conservation training centre Kartause Mauerbach; from 2004 head of dept. of monument lists; since 2009 deputy head of dept. for Upper Austria; since 2011 head of dept.

Uwe Koch, Dr., b. 1958. Sociologist, Ministerialrat; since June 1, 2015 head of office of the Deutsches Nationalkomitee für Denkmalschutz at the Federal Government Commissioner for Culture and the Media; also head of project team to prepare the European Cultural Heritage Year 2018 in Germany. Before head of dept. of heritage conservation, UNESCO World Heritage, museums and commemoration culture at the Brandenburg Ministry of Science, Research and Culture.

Marieke Kuipers, Prof. Dr., b. 1951. Professor of Cultural Heritage at Delft Technical University (2000–2008 at Maastricht University); senior specialist on modern architectural heritage at the Netherlands Cultural Heritage Agency; member of the ICOMOS ISC on 20th Century Heritage (ISC20C) and of DOCOMOMO.

Silke Langenberg, Prof. Dr.-Ing., b. 1974. Professor of Building in Historic Contexts, Heritage Conservation and Architectural Survey at the Hochschule in Munich. Before, she worked at the Institute of Technology in Architecture and at the Institute of Heritage Conservation and Building Research, both at ETH in Zurich. Member of the boards of ICOMOS Suisse and of the Förderverein Architekturmuseum der TU München.

Eva Lettl, Dipl.-Ing. Mag., b. 1959. Studied architecture at the TU in Vienna and history of art at the Karl-Franzens-Universität in Graz; worked in architect's offices in Vienna and Graz; since 2005 member of staff of the Austrian federal monuments office, since 2009 in the department for Upper Austria.

Klaus Lingenauber, Dipl.-Ing., b. 1954. Deputy head of the department Historic Garden Conservation at the Berlin monument authority. 1980–89 academic assistant at the Berlin Institute for Urban Planning, Deutsche Akademie für Städtebau und Landesplanung. Member of the working group on urban heritage conservation at the Association of Federal Conservationists (VdL); member of the board of the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Gartenkunst und Landschaftskultur (DGGL).

Christoph Machat, PhD, Ass. Prof., Dr. h.c. mult., b. 1946. Art historian; working in monument conservation since 1972; numerous publications; honorary member of CIAV (ISC for vernacular architecture); Vice President of ICOMOS Germany; since 2008 member of the Executive Committee/Board of ICOMOS; editor of the series "Heritage at Risk".

Hans-Rudolf Meier, Prof. Dr., b. 1956. Studied history of art; PhD at Basel University; assistant professor at ETH in Zurich; postdoctoral lecture qualification at Basel University; 2003 professorship for heritage science and building research at the TU Dresden; since 2008 professor of conservation and building history at the Bauhaus University in Weimar.

Elisabeth Merk, Prof. Dr.-Ing., b. 1963. Studied architecture in Regensburg and Florence; 2000–2005 head of the town planning office in Halle/Saale. Since 2007 head of the municipal planning and building control office in Munich. Since 2005 professor for urban development and planning at the Hochschule für Technik Stuttgart. President of the German Academy of Urban Development and Regional Planning (DASL); member of the Werkbund and of ICOMOS.

Thomas Metz, Dipl.-Ing., architect, b. 1955. Studied at Karlsruhe University; 1986–88 internship and state examination; 1988–98 management function at state building authority in Rhineland-Palatinate; 1998 head of castles, palaces and antiquities in Rhineland-Palatinate, 2001 also head of the Landesmuseum Koblenz; 2006 in addition temporary head of state conservation authority in Rhineland-Palatinate; since 2007 set-up and management of the Directorate General Cultural Heritage of Rhineland-Palatinate.

Philipp Meuser, Dr.-Ing., b. 1969. Studied architecture in Berlin and Zurich with a focus on theory and history. Obtained his doctorate with a thesis on mass housing in the USSR. Works as an architect with international planning and construction projects – including in the former Soviet Union – and as the owner of DOMpublishers, an architectural publishing firm in Berlin. In 2015 he held a guest professorship in Almaty, Kazakhstan.

Reiner Nagel, Dipl.-Ing., Architect and urban planner. Director of the Federal Foundation of Baukultur since May 2013. Previously head of the Berlin Senate Department for Urban Development (since 2005). Since 1986 Reiner Nagel has worked in various capacities at district and senate level for the city of Hamburg, most recently since 1998 in the management of Hafencity Hamburg GmbH.

Wilfried Posch, O. Univ.-Prof. Dr. techn. habil., b. 1940. 1989 until 2008 head of the Institute of Town and Regional Planning, Housing and Urban History at the University of Design in Linz; architect, consultant, author; Vice President of ICOMOS Austria; corresponding member of the German Academy of Urban Development and Regional Planning.

Francis Rambert, b. 1954. Architecture critic and director of the Institut Français d'Architecture at the Cité de l'Architecture et du Patrimoine, editor of the column Architecture in the cultural supplement of Le Figaro, one of the founders of the review D'architecture, member of the Jury for the European Prize for Urban Public Space.

Martin Reichert, b. 1964. Architect; studied history of art and archaeology in Berlin and Vienna and architecture in Berlin. Has been working as a qualified architect since 1993 and joined David Chipperfield Architects in Berlin in 2000, became a director in 2006 and a managing director and partner in the Berlin office in 2011.

Gerold Reker, Dipl.-Ing., b. 1950. President of the Chamber of Architects in Rhineland-Palatinate, freelance architect BDA; teaching assignments at the TU and FG Kaiserslautern; temporary professorship for design and interior work; expert jury. As initiator of the Hambacher Architekturgespräche he speaks up for the preservation of post-war architecture.

Birgitta Ringbeck, Dr., b. 1957. Studied history of art, archaeology and ethnology; until 2011 head of the Supreme Monuments Authority in North Rhine-Westphalia; since 2012 coordinator of the cultural conventions of UNESCO, especially of the World Heritage programme, at the German Foreign Office.

Matthias Ripp, Dipl.-Geogr. (Univ.), b. 1973. Historical geographer coordinating the "Old Town of Regensburg with Stadtamhof" World Heritage site. He specialises in integrated heritage management, heritage communication, governance and resilience of urban heritage and chairs the German Association of World Heritage Cities. Member of the European Heritage Panel and Regional Coordinator for the Organisation of World Heritage Cities (OWHC).

Alexander Fürst zu Sayn-Wittgenstein, MBA (HBS 68). Restoration of Sayn Palace and Castle and revitalisation as tourist sites. President of German Castles Association (1986–2013); Vice President of Europa Nostra (since 1991); Vice Chairman of Association of Castles and Gardens in Germany.

Barbara Seifen, Dr.-Ing., b. 1956. Studies of architecture and doctorate at University of Hanover; from 1989 regional consultant at LWL-DLBW, Monument Preservation, Landscape and Building Culture in Westphalia. Since 2011 representative of the VdL (Association of State Monument Conservators) as member of the German Council of Culture.

Oskar Spital-Frenking, Prof. Dipl.-Ing., b. 1960. Architect and urban planner; since 1994 own architect's office in Lüdinghausen, since 1999 together with Michael Schwarz; 1992–97 assistant at Chair of Heritage Conservation and Building Research (Prof. Dr. Uta Hassler), Dortmund University; since 1997 professorship at the Hochschule Trier, dept. of architecture.

Regina Stephan, Prof. Dr., b. 1963. Art historian; teaches at the University of Applied Sciences in Mainz. Member of ICOMOS and several advisory boards, e.g.: White City Tel Aviv, Mathildenhöhe Darmstadt and Landesdenkmalbeirat Rheinland-Pfalz. Curator of several exhibitions, for instance on Erich Mendelsohn and Joseph Maria Olbrich, as well as editor of books.

Ana Tostões, PhD, b. 1959. Architect, architectural critic and historian; Chair of DOCOMOMO International; DOCOMOMO Journal editor. She is Full Professor at Técnico, Lisbon University, where she is in charge of the architectural PhD program. She has been visiting professor at FAUP, EPFL, ETHZ, UTSOA, RSA, ETSAB, ETSAUN.

Bernd Vollmar, Dr. phil., b. 1951. Head of division 'practical conservation of architectural and art monuments' at the Bavarian Monument Conservation Authority in Munich; studied architecture as well as history of art, archaeology and modern history; since 1983 active in heritage conservation. Publications on architectural theory, monument research, practical conservation, and architecture of late modernism.

Petra Wesseler, Dipl.-Ing., architect, b. 1963. Studied architecture and urban planning in Braunschweig and Stuttgart and worked as an architect in London and Berlin, before she became project manager in the German Federal Construction Authority (BBD) in 1993. From 2002 to 2015 she acted as assistant mayor of construction and urban development in Chemnitz. In 2015 Wesseler was appointed as President of the Federal Office for Building and Regional Planning (BBR), Berlin.

Elena Wiezorek, Dr.-Ing., b. 1975. Studied urban and regional planning at the Technical University Berlin; managing director of the Chamber of Architects in Rhineland-Palatinate and director of the Baukultur Foundation in Rhineland-Palatinate since 2011.

Thomas Will, Prof. Dipl.-Ing./M. Arch. (Cornell), b. 1951. Professor for Preservation and Design at the Technical University Dresden. A practicing architect and preservation consultant, he is member of the ICOMOS Monitoring Group, the State Conservation Council of Saxony, and the urban design advisory boards of Lübeck (until 2015) and Nuremberg.